Important Notices

- Keep in mind that GPM has no official FivePD servers.
- LSPDFR callouts and plugins do not work with FivePD, because they use entirely different APIs.
- Although you can, we do not recommend using FivePD and ESX/vRP at the same time. If you do want to use them, make sure to use separate databases for each modification.
- FivePD is a server-side modification, meaning players do not need to install anything client-side.
- OneSync is the recommended syncing engine for FivePD. Consider enabling OneSync through your server's control panel or server launch properties.
- The FivePD loading screen is not an indication that the gamemode is installed properly. The loading screen may appear even when the gamemode is misconfigured.

- If you've encountered a bug, visit this page, check all previous bug reports and ensure that the problem hasn't been reported before. If it hasn't been reported, submit a new report for assistance.
- If you have a suggestion that could make FivePD better, you can visit this page.
- If you are experiencing issues with FivePD, go to this page and start a new support topic.
